Hanging Tree Wines.

Hanging Tree Wines has certainly come of age.

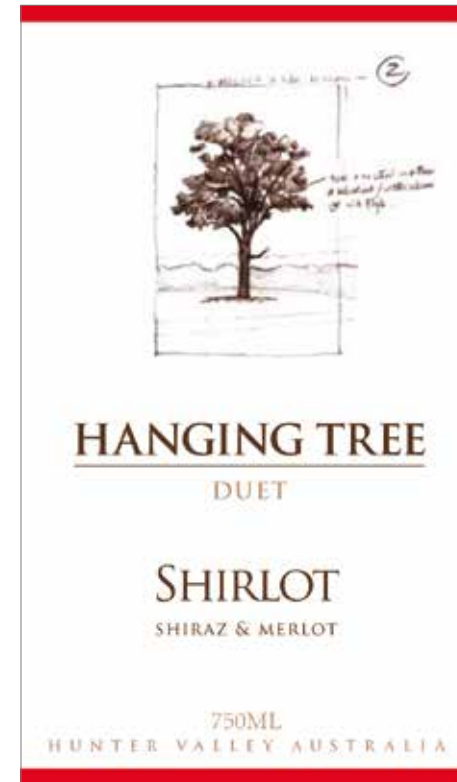

When the doors opened at Hanging Tree Wines' cellar door, customers of the Hunter Valley winery cheered with surprise and delight.

Hanging Tree Wines wowed sommeliers and everyday drinkers alike with fresh new branding that can now be seen across its fine collection of Shirlot, Semillon Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Cabernet and Shiraz. The new look is the result of a clever collaboration between the wine great and the Kwik Kopy design team.

Having long outgrown a heady mix of mismatched fonts, colours and labels, Hanging Tree Wines, in collaboration with Kwik Kopy, banished them to the archives. They were replaced with a new look that embodies professionalism, style and consistency.

Cellar door and retail sales confirm Hanging Tree Wines' new branding is being embraced by its fan base as well as winning over a whole new generation of wine lovers.

We love the new look Hanging Tree Wines. The winery's new branding is well deserving of the spotlight.

For design that rocks.
